Raymond Carver

An Oral Biography
Sam Halpert

“I don’t know another book like this one. It is a biography, an appreciation, a recollection, and a shrewd critical assessment of a unique American writer—written by people who knew him best: his family, his friends, and his fellow writers. It will have to be read by anyone seriously interested in the fiction of Raymond Carver.”

—C. Michael Curtis
232 pages, £31.50 hb, £14.95 pb

Rediscovering
Nancy Drew

Edited by Carolyn Stewart Dyer and Nancy Tillman Romalov

“Nancy Drew belongs to a moment in feminist history: it is a moment, I suggest, that we celebrate, allowing ourselves the satisfaction of praising her for what she dared and forgiving her for what she failed to undertake or understand.”—Carolyn G.

Heilbrun 272 pages, 20 photos
£11.95 pb, £23.50 hb

Walt Whitman and the World

*Edited by Gay Wilson Allen

The Prairie Winnows Out Its Own

The West River Country of South Dakota in the Years of Depression and Dust
Paula M. Nelson

“Highly readable. . . The term ‘wide open spaces’ takes on new meaning in Nelson’s book. . . A marvelous job of presenting the lives of west river South Dakotans during times of extreme stress in a way that should touch all readers’ emotions regardless of where they live.”—Dorothy Schwieder, Iowa State University
240 pages, 25 photos £26.50 hb

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, History Department, Lancaster University, Lancaster LA1 4YG, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 6,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and has not been concurrently submitted for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed or printed in double spacing (including footnotes), with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to The Chicago Manual of Style (13th edition, 1982) or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or Printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Proof corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps). Typescripts from the UK will not normally be returned.
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
