THE AMERICAN SUPREME COURT

Robert G. McCloskey

Third Edition

Revised by Sanford Levinson

First published more than four decades ago, Robert McCloskey's classic work on the Supreme Court's role in constructing the U.S. Constitution has introduced generations of students to the workings of our nation's highest court. Sanford Levinson brings this new edition into the twenty-first century, revising the last two chapters, which cover the events of the past forty years, and updating the book's preface, coda, chronology, and bibliographical essay.

THE CULTURAL STUDY OF LAW

Reconstructing Legal Scholarship

Paul W. Kahn

"Kahn . . . offers the first full examination of what it means to conduct a modern intellectual inquiry into the culture of law. Charting the way for the development of a new intellectual discipline, he advocates an approach that stands outside law's normative framework and looks at law as a way of life rather than a set of rules."—Yale Law Report

JAPANESE LAW

An Economic Approach

J. Mark Ramseyer and Minoru Nakazato

"This is a lively and lucid introduction to Japanese law. . . . For those who are not familiar with economic analysis of the law, this book could well be an eye-opener. . . . The authors have many interesting and insightful things to say about the unique features of corporate governance in Japan and about mergers and takeovers."

—Keechang Kim, Cambridge Law Journal

Women's Studies/Political Science

Columbia University in the City of New York seeks to make a joint appointment at the level of tenured Associate Professor in Women's/Gender Studies and Political Science (American Politics, Theory, and/or Comparative Politics). We seek a candidate whose publications are in the general field of socio-political analysis and/or political theory, and who can address questions of gender and sexuality from various perspectives. Under this broad rubric, we welcome a range of methodological orientations, philosophical commitments, and areal foci. Research interests may be local or comparativist in orientation, and may include, for example, work on women, sexuality, the family and law, the politics of representation, electoral politics and gender, historical philosophy of gender/sexual difference, new forms of capital and categories of gendered personhood, among other topics. The successful candidate will hold a position in the Political Science department, and, where appropriate, another department of disciplinary affiliation, but will teach half time in the Institute for Research on Women and Gender. She or he should have a strong record of publication in her or his discipline and a demonstrated commitment to scholarship and teaching in Women's and Gender Studies. Applications will be read after October 15. The appointment shall commence in July 2002. Columbia University is an AA/EEO employer.
