Churchill, Cripps, and India 1939 - 1945

R. J. Moore

This is the story of a missed opportunity. Professor Moore argues that Sir Stafford Cripps's mission to India in 1942 could, if successful, have prevented the ultimate partition of India, and that its failure can be attributed to the baleful influence of Churchill, acting in support of the over-cautious and often stubborn Viceroy, Lord Linlithgow. £7.50

The Beginning of the Great Game in Asia 1828 - 1834

Edward Ingram

This book explains why the British became worried by the expansion of Russia, why they were right to be worried, and how they tried to safeguard British India without entangling imperial defence with the balance of power in Europe. £11

Rajah Charles Brooke: Monarch of all he Surveyed

Colin N. Crisswell

Here is the first full-length biography of Charles Brooke, who ruled as Rajah of Sarawak from 1868 until 1917. He was eccentric and strong-minded, and he formalized the administration and finances of Sarawak. The author has studied all the known source material on this hitherto obscure figure. Illustrated £11.50

Sacred and Profane Dimensions of Love in Indian Traditions

The Gitagovind of Jayadeva

Lee Siegel

This is an inquiry into the conceptions of love in its sacred and profane dimensions as a universal theme in religious and secular literature. The author examines the way in which the generic experience finds expression in Indian traditions, and the way in which those traditions are exemplified in the twelfth-century Sanskrit poem, the Gitagovind. £12.25
