

DETAILED STUDIES OF ECONOMIES OVER TIME

HUNGARY: A Century of Economic Development

IVAN T. BEREND, Karl Marx University and
GYORGY RANKI, University of Debrecen

Provides the first major account in English of the economic history of Hungary. It examines the economic effects of the Industrial Revolution and the break-up of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, the World War II economy, and the economic growth of the socialist period, including a review of the economic strategies of the 1950's and an assessment of their impact. National Economic Histories Series. 1974. 263 pp. $18.50

BRITAIN AND AMERICA: A Comparative Economic History, 1850-1939

GRAEME HOLMES

Analyzes the reasons why America's economic growth was greater than Britain's in the years 1850-1939 by a systematic comparison of their economic problems that also demonstrates the nature of the interplay between these two rapidly changing economies. It discusses both general changes and specific topics such as overseas trade, agriculture, industry, trade unionism, labor migration, transport, and finance. Illustrated Sources in History Series. 1974. approx. 180 pp. $10.00

THE GROWTH OF THE BRITISH ECONOMY, 1918-1968

G. A. PHILLIPS, University of Lancaster, and
R. T. MADDOCK, University College of Wales

Explains the movements of aggregate production and productivity in the British economy since World War I, discussing various factors such as changing trends in effective domestic and foreign economic demand, the supply of labor and capital, and the role of management and the state. It provides a balanced mixture of the available historical and statistical evidence and the relevant economic history. 1974. 188 pp. $10.50

3 IMPORTANT REPRINTS...

INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS AND DISPUTES

LORD ASKWITH

With a new introduction by Roger Davidson, University of Edinburgh. 1920; repr. 1974. 494 pp. $20.00

ECONOMIC GROWTH: England in the Later Middle Ages

ANTHONY R. BRIDBURY

With a new introduction by the author. 1962; repr. 1974. 116 pp. $8.00

THE GROWTH AND FLUCTUATIONS OF THE BRITISH ECONOMY, 1790-1850

ARTHUR D. GAYER, W. W. ROSTOW, and ANNA J. SCHWARZ

With a new introduction by W. W. Rostow and Anna J. Schwarz. 1953; repr. 1974. 1028 pp. 2 Vol. Set $60.00

HARPER & ROW

 BARNES & NOBLE

10 E. 53rd St., New York, New York 10022

FDR SPEAKS

The inimitable oratory of Franklin Delano Roosevelt is now captured in its full impact on Audio-Text Cassettes. FDR Speaks is the first complete collection of FDR's recorded speeches and fireside chats. Compiled by the Center for Cassette Studies in conjunction with Xerox University Microfilms, the collection consists of 204 cassettes embodying 278 speeches from 1920 to 1945. The accompanying paperbound Index is itself an outstanding contribution to FDR source material, containing a synopsis of each address in the collection as well as a 5,600-entry subject index. For details on this exceptional cassette series, mail the coupon below.

Xerox University Microfilms

300 North Zeeb Road / Ann Arbor, Michigan 48106

Please send a brochure on the FDR Speaks cassette collection.

Name _____

Institution _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

XEROX

XEROX® is a trademark of XEROX CORPORATION

Xerox Ad No 8448 - AV 3

Full Page, B & W

Gustafson Whitmer Advertising, Inc

Ann Arbor, Michigan 48103

September, 1974

A New Academic Press Journal . . .

EXPLORATIONS IN ECONOMIC HISTORY

Edited by: GARY M. WALTON

Explorations in Economic History is a vehicle for the publication of research in economic history. The first issue of Volume 12 marks the change to a new publisher, Academic Press, Inc. and announces the presence of a new and expanded board of editors. It also launches the journal in a new direction designed to give a truly international coverage of economic history.

SOME ARTICLES SCHEDULED TO APPEAR IN FUTURE ISSUES:
Wealth Estimates for the New England Colonies, 1650-1709/T. L. ANDERSON
Institutional Prices in Southern England 1401-1640/R. A. DOUGHTY
Institutional Change and American Economic Growth; A Critique of Davis and North/V. P. GOLDBERT and A. L. OLMSTEAD
Railroads in Tsarist Russia: Direct Gains and Implications/J. METZER
The Old Poof Law Revisited/G. S. L. TUCKER
The Gold Crisis of 1869: Stabilizing or Destabilizing Speculation under Floating Exchange Rates?/L. T. Wimmer
Traditional Agriculture in Transition: The Case of India/A Symposium
Please write to Publisher for subscription information and sample issue.

THE MODERN WORLD-SYSTEM Capitalist Agriculture and the Origins of the European World-Economy in the Sixteenth Century By IMMANUEL WALLERSTEIN

A Volume in the STUDIES IN SOCIAL DISCONTINUITY Series
1974, 416 pages, $16.50/£7.90

FROM THE ADVANCE REVIEWS:

"The first and only serious, comprehensive and successful attempt to advance an analysis and explanation of the early development of a world economy, the understanding of which is essential for the proper appreciation of all subsequent development. This book should become a classic immediately upon publication."

—ANDRE GUNDER FRANK
Free University of Berlin

CONTENTS:

Introduction: The Concept of Social Change
Medieval Prelude
The New European Division of Labour: c. 1450-1640
The Absolute Monarchy and Statism
From Seville to Amsterdam: The Failure of Empire
The Strong Core-States: Class Formation and International Commerce
The European Economy: Periphery versus External Arena
Theoretical Restatement. Bibliography. Index.

Academic Press, Inc.

A Subsidiary of Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, Publishers
111 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10003
24-28 Oval Road, London NW1 7DX

Workingmen of Waltham

Mobility in American
Urban Industrial Development, 1850-1890

HOWARD M. GITELMAN

While most studies rely on select sub-groups of populations for evidence, Gitelman has meticulously reconstructed the lives of the entire male population of Waltham, Mass. to provide a unique study of urbanization. He discusses such topics as the relationship between net and gross migration, occupational mobility within the plant hierarchy, and changing patterns of wealth distribution. $10.00

Development Planning

Lessons of Experience

Enlarged Edition

ALBERT WATERSTON

"Waterston's book, based on seven years' study at the World Bank of some fifty country experiences, is a major contribution. . . . Economists who wish to go beyond theoretical analysis of economic development to its application by today's governments in low-income countries will find reading Waterston's book a most stimulating experience." — American Economic Review. Published for the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. $17.50 now in paperback!

The Politics of Mexican Development

With a new introduction on recent events

ROGER D. HANSEN

". . . the most impressive critique of the Mexican style of development currently available in English. It is a most welcome addition to the literature and deserves the attention of all serious students of Mexico." — International Affairs $12.00, $2.95 paper

Neither Slave nor Free

The Freedman of African Descent
in the Slave Societies of the New World

edited by DAVID W. COHEN and JACK P. GREENE

"The ten essays deal with colonial Spanish America, Surinam and Curaçao, colonial Brazil, the French Antilles, Saint Domingue, Jamaica, Barbados, the North American Slave States, Cuba, and nineteenth-century Brazil. . . . An important book." — Journal of Southern History $13.50, $3.95 paper

The Johns Hopkins University Press

Baltimore, Maryland 21218

THE ECONOMIC HISTORY ASSOCIATION

The Economic History Association was organized in 1940. Its purpose is to encourage research and teaching in the history of economic activity and of economic thought. It seeks to cooperate with societies devoted to the study of agricultural, industrial, and business history. It aims to bring together economists, historians, statisticians, geographers, and others who find that the story of economic change throws light on their field of interest or is enriched by their contribution. Membership is open to all who are interested in the history of economic life in all its phases in the United States and other countries.

THE JOURNAL OF ECONOMIC HISTORY is published for The Economic History Association by the Graduate School of Business Administration of New York University. Correspondence concerning contributions to the JOURNAL should be addressed to the editorial office: Nathan Rosenberg, Department of Economics, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin 53706. Applications for membership should be addressed to Herman E. Krooss, Treasurer, in care of New York University, 100 Trinity Place, New York, New York 10006.