

NOTICE TO CONTRIBUTORS

All editorial communications should be addressed to the Secretary, Royal Asiatic Society, 56 Queen Anne Street, London W1M 9LA, in the first instance.

Contributions submitted for publication in the Society's Journal should be typed in double spacing on quarto paper, leaving a margin of at least 16 strokes at the left-hand side. Sheets should be numbered consecutively at the top right-hand corner. Notes, numbered consecutively through the article, should be typed on a separate sheet or sheets at the end and not at the foot of each page.

Authors are urged to study the conventions employed in recent issues of the Journal, particularly the style of citation of books and periodical articles, and the bibliographical information inserted at the head of reviews. Contributions should be submitted in a form ready for the printer; later corrections, whether involving over-running or not, can be accepted only at the Editor's discretion and will incur a charge to the author. Authors will receive page proofs; galleys will not normally be sent.

Authors of articles will be supplied with 25 free copies of offprints. Additional copies can be obtained on request at moderate charges; authors are asked to notify the Editor of their requirements when returning proofs.

THE GILGIT GAME

The Explorers of the Western Himalayas
1865-95

JOHN KEAY

This is a story of exploration unlike any other. The arena was 40,000 square miles of the world's highest mountains, an unknown and impossibly remote wilderness which briefly became the flashpoint of Asia. During a century of political expansion and military brinkmanship the frontiers of Russia and British India never came closer to collision than they did, briefly, in the Gilgit Game.

The China Station

War and Diplomacy 1830–1860

Gerald S. Graham

China was opened physically to the West by the Royal Navy, and this is the first book which attempts to analyse in detail how this was done. European rivalries, American trade competition, major crises such as the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, internal conditions in China, and missionary enterprise are woven into the narrative. £15

Bhutan: The Dragon Kingdom in Crisis

N. K. Rustomji

On the night of 5 April 1964, Jigmie Dorji, the Prime Minister of the Himalayan Kingdom of Bhutan, was assassinated. It soon became evident that the King's uncle had issued the fatal order, and that the assassination was in fact the climax of hidden but mounting tension over diverse issues. This is the first objective account of this critical event in Bhutan's history. Illustrated £4.50
