
• New Butterworth Publications •

MEDICAL NEGLIGENCE. Being the Law of Negligence in relation to the Medical Profession and Hospitals.

Now Ready. By THE RT. HON. LORD NATHAN, P.C., a Solicitor of the Supreme Court, Chairman of the Board of Governors of Westminster Hospital, with the collaboration of ANTHONY R. BARROWCLOUGH, B.A., Barrister-at-Law.

This is an objective and comprehensive statement of the law relating to the liability of medical practitioners and medical institutions for professional negligence. The style is straightforward and a chapter on the general principles of English law relating to the assessment of damages for personal injuries is also included.

35s. net, by post 1s. 3d. extra

BELL'S SALE OF FOOD AND DRUGS, 13th Edition.

Just Published. By JOHN A. O'KEEFE, B.SC.(ECON.), LL.B., Barrister-at-Law: Chief Officer, Public Control Department, Middlesex County Council.

For this new edition the Acts and Regulations are arranged by subjects, instead of chronologically as before—a new system which will be found much more convenient. The whole work has undergone considerable revision and expansion to bring it up to date.

The useful life of this edition will be prolonged by the issue of supplementary material from time to time; with the first issue of supplementary pages a special Service Volume, in the form of a loose leaf binder, will be provided.

Main Volume: £5 10s. net, by post 2s. extra

EDDY'S LAW OF COPYRIGHT.

Ready April. By J. P. EDDY, Q.C.

Running to some 400 pages this new book provides comprehensive and reliable guidance to the new law of copyright as embodied in the Copyright Act, 1956. After a General Introduction of 27 pages, describing the background of the Act and the way in which it has reached its present form, the author devotes close on 200 pages to a very detailed narrative in which he explains the meaning and effect of the new provisions, dealing with matters in the same order as does the Act itself. The practical approach of this explanatory section is a notable feature of the book, and its usefulness is added to by summaries of the copyright law operating in other countries such as various parts of the Commonwealth and the United States. The actual text of the Copyright Act, 1956, is then given, with suitable annotations, while an Appendix contains the text of the Brussels Convention and the Universal Copyright Convention. The book is completed by a Table of Cases and a good Index.

(Reprinted from Butterworths Annotated Legislation Service.)

35s. net, by post 1s. 9d. extra

DIAS AND HUGHES ON JURISPRUDENCE.

Now Available. By R. W. M. DIAS, M.A., LL.B.(CANTAB.), Barrister-at-Law; Fellow of Magdalene College and Lecturer in Law in the University of Cambridge, and G. B. J. HUGHES, M.A.(CANTAB.), LL.B.(WALES), Lecturer in Law at the University of Hull.

This book replaces the earlier book entitled Hughes on Jurisprudence; it must not, however, be regarded as a revision of that work, for Dias and Hughes is an entirely new work based on a fundamentally different plan. Running to some 500 pages, this new book covers the subject in a way which is interesting for its own sake as well as refreshing for the reader. Special emphasis is placed on helping the student to think for himself and to construct his own concepts, so that the work has an added value resulting from its disciplinary approach. The form of the book makes it suitable for most University courses in Jurisprudence; the bringing together of modern views, including those of continental writers and the realist jurists, will be particularly useful to undergraduates.

42s. net, by post 1s. 6d. extra

BUTTERWORTHS, 88 KINGSWAY, LONDON, WC2
SHOWROOM: 11-12 BELL YARD, TEMPLE BAR, WC2

PITMAN

FRAUD IN EQUITY

By L. A. SHERIDAN, LL.B., PH.D., etc. A thorough re-examination of the concept of fraud as developed by the Court of Chancery. Taking as a starting point the classical division of equitable fraud as enunciated by Lord Hardwicke in Earl of Chesterfield v. Janssen, the author surveys the various types of behaviour fraud for limited purposes, arriving at a final synthesis in which meaning, classification and distinguishing features of equitable fraud are considered in the light of the material surveyed. A comprehensive review—one that could not be expected of a general book on Equity—for students and legal practitioners. 40s. net.

PRINCIPLES OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

By J. A. G. GRIFFITH, LL.M., etc., and H. STREET, LL.M., PH.D., etc. 2nd edition. A book for barristers and solicitors as well as for university law students. It is also of great interest to local government officers and civil servants. Approx. 35s. net.

THE LAW OF QUASI-CONTRACTS

By J. H. MUNKMAN, LL.B., etc. 20s. net. "The extent and importance of quasi-contract is clearly destined to grow, and this book not only meets the current need for all lawyers but may well expand from the extremely careful, and it is submitted, correct framework, that the author has created."—Law Journal.

THE ASSIGNMENT OF CHOSSES IN ACTION

By O. R. MARSHALL, M.A.(CANTAB.), PH.D.(LOND.), etc. 30s. net. "The advanced student of law, for whom the book is primarily intended, will find it invaluable."—Law Journal.

THE HEARSAY RULE

By R. W. BAKER, B.C.L.(OXON.), B.LITT.(OXON.), etc. 35s. net. "Those whose tastes are academic will find this book to their liking, while to anyone interested in promoting reform it will be of real value."—The Law Times.

PARKER STREET, KINGSWAY, LONDON, W.C.2