

CHICAGO

Since 1891, Publishers of Scholarly Books and Journals

Comic Faith

The Great Tradition from Austen to Joyce

Robert M. Polhemus

In this study, Polhemus argues that a true "great tradition" in the British novel is to be found in the rich comic interpretations of life expressed by these writers. Polhemus sees comedy as a representation of the processes and hopes of regeneration and argues that it can be seen as a mode of religious consciousness.

Cloth 416 pages $25.00 Available

On the Edge of Paradise

A. C. Benson: Diarist

David Newsome

Arthur Benson's immense diary, written between 1827 and 1925, has enabled a remarkable portrait of the placid philosopher and Master of Magdalene College, Cambridge, to be written. By turns, disrespectful, trenchant, caustic, and witty, Benson emerges as a person of consequence moving freely among men of influence and power in academic, church, and literary circles.

Cloth 416 pages 12 p. photos $25.00 Available

The Journey to the West

Translated and Edited by Anthony C. Yu

Volume 3

Volume 3 of the beloved Chinese classic Hsi-yu Chi continues the monk Tripitaka's journey to India with four animal disciples in quest of Buddhist scriptures. This volume contains the hilarious account of the pilgrims' pregnancy in the Kingdom of Women and the well-known episode of the Mountain of Flames, where the pilgrims battle the Bull Demon King.

Cloth 512 pages $30.00 Available

The Sword of the Spirit

Puritan Responses to the Bible

John R. Knott, Jr.

Knott illustrates the richness and power of the best Puritan writing by analyzing the work of five writers: Richard Sibbes, Richard Baxter, Gerrard Winstanley, John Milton, and John Bunyan.

Cloth 208 pages $18.00 Available

Poetic Statement and Critical Dogma

With a new Preface

Gerald Graff

In the new Preface to his incisive critical study, Graff observes that recent criticism has carried the anti-propositionalist stance to its logical extreme: if poetry does not make any genuine statements about the world outside it, how can critics make any assertions about poetry?

Paper 208 pages $7.00 Available

Language and Knowledge in the Late Novels of Henry James

Ruth Bernard Yeazell

"This is a strong, blessedly short book that threads its way with intelligence and . . . rich provocation through that densest of subjects, the familiar 'Jamesian opaque' of the Master's Major Phase."—Novel

Paper 152 pages $6.00 Available

The University of Chicago Press ■ Chicago 60637

Revolution as Tragedy

The Dilemma of the Moderate from Scott to Arnold

By JOHN P. FARRELL. "A splendid piece of work. Farrell's ideas on Scott, Byron, Carlyle, and Arnold are always serious and fascinating, and his challenging readings of their work deserve close attention." –John Hagan, State University of New York. "This book, which suggests a basic reconsideration of the categories common to 19th-century literature, is recommended." –Library Journal. $15.00

DANIEL R. SCHWARZ
CONRAD

ALMAYER'S FOLLY TO UNDER WESTERN EYES

Joseph Conrad 1904.

Wordsworth and the Poetry of Human Suffering

By JAMES H. AVERILL. "A solid, well-written, and interesting account of Wordsworth's treatment of pathos as a subject and his use of it as a tactic for engaging response. It will make a useful and lucid contribution to Wordsworth criticism." –Frances Ferguson, University of California, Berkeley. $15.00

Conrad

Almayer's Folly to Under Western Eyes

By DANIEL R. SCHWARZ. Rather than focus on a single theme throughout the fiction of Joseph Conrad, Daniel Schwarz considers each of Conrad's works as a unique imagined world with its own aesthetic and moral geography, and explores how each work contributes to an understanding of the entire canon. $23.50

The War in Heaven

Paradise Lost and the Tradition of Satan's Rebellion

By STELLA PURCE REVARD. "Professor Revard has deepened and consolidated the previous studies of the war in heaven, giving us a clear and authoritative picture of Milton's use of the tradition he inherited. Her book is an important contribution to our understanding not only of the fifth and sixth books of Paradise Lost, but also of their place within the poem." –B. Rajan, University of Western Ontario. $18.50

CORNELL UNIVERSITY PRESS

P.O. Box 250, Ithaca, New York 14850