THE HOURS OF THE PASSION

By JUDE MEAD, C.P.

Wood engravings by BRUNO BRAMANTI

Before the rosary came into popular use countless generations of Christian people had found a powerful source for prayerful contemplation in the illustrated Hour Books of medieval devotion. In this modern Hour Book—written in the form of reflections and meditations—the author portrays the whole drama of Christ's passion.

FORTY STEPS TO EASTER

Daily Thoughts for Lent

By Mgr. A. F. COOGAN

Wide in variety, the thoughts include a consideration and application to life of the beatitudes, the place of suffering in life, the power of prayer, and the importance of conforming our lives to the will of God. Explaining them on the level of everyday life, Monsignor Coogan uses human-interest examples to vivify their practical meaning.

WATCH AND PRAY

Readings and Meditations for Religious for the Monthly Day of Recollection

By J. E. MOFFATT, S.J.

As a background for the self-examination on the day of Recollection, perhaps no subject for consideration is better calculated to bring out in sharp relief the true state of our soul than the subject of death. To suggest food for thought on this subject is the purpose of this book.

The matter is first presented in the form of spiritual reading, then at the end of each chapter there is a brief outline arranged with preludes and points for the convenience of those who may wish to use the matter for meditation.
