EDITOR'S NOTE

Due to an oversight, we neglected to print the following notice in connection with the article "After the Seventh Special General Assembly Session: Africa and the New Emerging World Order," by John P. Renninger, in which the author wanted to make clear that "The views expressed in this article are those of the author and do not necessarily reflect the official position of the United Nations Institute for Training and Research."

NOTICE TO MEMBERS: The United States Postal Service does not forward periodicals. We must receive written notification from you at least five weeks in advance of any change of mailing address. Failure to notify us of your correct mailing address will result in suspension of your membership until we receive such notification. We can make address changes only when current dues are paid. Domestic claims for non-receipt of issues must be made to the association's office within six months of the month of publication (overseas claims, one year). Copies of the Review damaged in the mail will be replaced without charge.

The African Studies Review is published three times a year (April, September, and December) by the African Studies Association, 218 Shiffman Center, Brandeis University, Waltham, Massachusetts 02154, U.S.A. Articles in the Review represent neither the views of the African Studies Association nor those of its officers; responsibility for opinions expressed and for the accuracy of facts published rests solely with the individual authors. Responsibility for the copy editing of the material is also the author's.
