

Law & Society Review Condensed Style Sheet

Type manuscripts double-spaced on one side of the paper only. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include an abstract, footnotes, and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the authors to conform to the Review's style. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult Review issues in volume 26 or later for further illustrations. A detailed style sheet is available from the Editorial Office.

- 1. Abstracts. All manuscripts should include an abstract of not more than 100 words. No abstracts are required for review essays or comments.
- 2. Footnotes. Footnotes should be numbered sequentially (except for the author's footnote) and printed on pages immediately following the text (not at the foot of the page). They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.
- 3. Tables and Figures. Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready; provide originals, not xerographic copies. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes, appendixes, and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

Table 1 about here

- 4. Citations. All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. For example:

In a thoughtful essay, Hayden (1991) . . .

OR

Media stories often portray the civil jury as generous (Daniels & Martin 1986:236; Hans 1989; Huber 1988).

The same general rules apply to footnote text.

- 5. References. References are placed at the end of the manuscript following the footnotes. The list should contain only those sources actually cited in text or notes. Give authors' names as they appear in the original source. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in chronological order, with the older item first. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small (lower-case) letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a, 1970b).

BOOKS: Last Name, First Name (year) Title of Book. City: Publisher.

Example: Lerner, Melvin J. (1980) Belief in a Just World. New York: Plenum.

CHAPTER IN EDITED VOLUME:

Example: Glazer, Nathan (1979) "The Judiciary and Social Policy," in L. Theberge, ed., The Judiciary in a Democratic Society. Lexington, MA: Lexington Books.

ARTICLES: Last Name, First Name (Year) "Title of Article," volume number Journal page numbers of article. (Give month or issue number if each issue is separately paginated.)

Examples: Padgett, John F. (1990) "Plea Bargaining in Prohibition," 24 Law & Society Rev. 413-50.

Brill, Steven, & James Lyons ((1986) "The Not-So-Simple Crisis," American Lawyer 12-15 (May).

UNPUBLISHED PAPERS:

Example: Lofquist, William S. (1991) "The Development of Organizational Probation." Presented at American Society of Criminology annual meeting, San Francisco.

All cases cited in text are listed under "Cases Cited" following the References. All statutes cited are listed under "Statutes Cited." For style for cases and statutes, see A Uniform System of Citation.

LAYING DOWN THE LAW

Mysticism, Fetishism, and the American Legal Mind

PIERRE SCHLAG

"Pierre Schlag has been through the collapse of legal theory and lived to tell the tale, a tale that is burdened by as few illusions as possible except for the saving one of hope. He is also a great (and serious) comic. Reading Schlag on me is a lot more fun than reading me. You can count on it."

DEFINING THE FAMILY

Law, Technology, and Reproduction in an Uneasy Age

JANET L. DOLGIN

Providing a sweeping portrait of the family in American law from the nineteenth century to the present, Janet Dolgin charts the response of the law to modern reproductive technology as it both transforms our image of the family and is itself transformed by the tide of social forces.

SOCIAL & LEGAL STUDIES

AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL

Edited by
Didi Herman
*University of Keele, Alan
Norrie Queen Mary &
Westfield College and
Katherine O'Donovan
Queen Mary & Westfield
College*

In nearly five years Social & Legal Studies has established itself as a leading international forum for work on law from a variety of perspectives within social theory.

The journal is committed to:

- the publication of critical scholarship
- the promotion of non-Western perspectives on law, regulation and criminology
- the integration of feminist analysis at every level of scholarship
- the advancement of accessible theoretical approaches which enhance analysis and explanation

Social & Legal Studies publishes original articles, reviews and scholarly comment which explore the study of legal processes and draw upon the critical and analytical traditions of sociology, feminism, political economy, history and philosophy. The journal features papers embracing all aspects of law, including legal institutions, processes, ideology and discourses.

Published quarterly • ISSN: 0964-6639

CRIME IS NOT THE PROBLEM

Lethal Violence in America

FRANKLIN E. ZIMRING AND GORDON HAWKINS

“A watershed in the analysis of what to do about crime and violence. At last, social science data from this country and abroad is drawn into policy recommendations of determinative importance to the prevention and punishment of violence. At last, criminology grows up”—Norval Morris,

University of Chicago. “This brilliant analysis of violence in the United States offers unique insights into the dilemma. One can only hope that policy makers pay attention to the authors’ pragmatic suggestions for innovative policies to diminish this singularly American problem”

—Joseph D. McNamara, Research Fellow, The Hoover Institution.

THE DEATH PENALTY IN AMERICA

Current Controversies

EDITED BY HUGO ADAM BEDAU

Bedau’s earlier book on the capital punishment was praised in The New York Times as “the most complete, well-edited and comprehensive collection of readings of the pros and cons of the death penalty.” This new volume brings together an entirely new selection of 40 essays and includes updated statistical and research data, recent Supreme Court decisions, and the best current contributions to the debate. Essential reading for scholars, activists, policymakers, and concerned citizens, this volume offers a wealth of information, a wide range of perspectives, and a series of arguments as engaging as they are important.

A BOOK OF LEGAL LISTS

The Best and Worst in American Law

BERNARD SCHWARTZ

From John Marshall, the greatest Supreme Court Justice, to Alfred Moore, one of the worst, Bernard Schwartz’s A Book of Legal Lists canvases the best and the worst of American law. There are thirteen lists in all, including the ten worst Supreme Court decisions, the ten greatest non-Supreme Court judges, the ten greatest lawyers, the ten greatest trials—even the ten greatest legal motion pictures. In addition, Schwartz has added 150 entertaining and informative trivia questions (about what Justice did Theodore Roosevelt complain that he could find more backbone in a banana?) with the answers (Oliver Wendell Holmes). $25.00, 292 pp.

The Michigan Journal of Political Science

A University of Michigan Student Journal of Political Studies

The Michigan Journal of Political Science

The Michigan Journal of Political Science is a bi-annual scholarly publication edited by undergraduates at the University of Michigan. For its presentation of noteworthy papers by outstanding students nationwide, MJPS is regarded as one of the most respected student journals in the country.

The Grace Award

Each year the editorial staff recognizes the best submission to the Journal with the presentation of the Grace Award. This award, established in 1985, honors the late Frank Grace, Professor of Political Science from 1943-83. The recipient of this award receives $500 and is published in the Journal. All undergraduate papers submitted are eligible for this competition.

The editors will consider submissions relating to all aspects of political science.

All submitted articles become the property of the Editorial Board and MJPS.

Medical Malpractice and the American Jury

Confronting the Myths about Jury Incompetence, Deep Pockets, and Outrageous Damage Awards

"Medical Malpractice and the American Jury is quite simply the most compelling, comprehensive examination of the American jury system yet written. It brings reason and fact to the debate in a way that puts the lie to the many myths surrounding medical negligence cases. Crime and Justice: A Review of Research

Ethnicity, Crime, and Immigration

Comparative and Cross-National Perspectives

EDITED BY MICHAEL TONRY

With the increasing integration of Western Europe and the substantial population flows following the dissolution of the iron curtain and the wars in Turkey, the former Yugoslavia, and East Africa, migration has reached an all-time high in Europe, and "immigration and crime" has emerged as the foremost crime control issue. Ethnicity, Crime, and Immigration is the first major comparative examination of racial and ethnic differences in criminal offending, victimization by crime, and disparities and discrimination in Western justice systems.
