

Review Articles: Editorial Note

An earlier issue of this volume of the American Bar Foundation Research Journal contained "Styles of Delivery of Legal Services to the Poor: A Review Article," by Samuel Jan Brakel, a Research Attorney of the Foundation. The article was stimulated by the book Toward Equal Justice: A Comparative Study of Legal Aid in Modern Societies, by Mauro Cappelletti, James Gordley, and Earl Johnson, Jr. Pursuant to the established policy of the Journal, its pages were offered to the authors of the reviewed book to make a response, which follows. Ideally, the article and the response would have appeared in the same issue but that was not practicable. Those with a deep interest in the subject will undoubtedly wish to reread Mr. Brakel's piece at 1977 A.B.F. Res. J. 291. Any new subscriber to the Journal who would like a copy of that earlier piece can obtain one free on request, by writing to the A.B.F. Dissemination Department.
