

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS

SALUD Y DINÁMICA DE POBLACION, The committee met to review the activities of the Pan American Health Organization in the field of health and population dynamics. An analysis was made of programs of research in reproduction, contraception, and demography, efforts in evaluation, service programs, operational research, and education and training. The committee established that the PAHO should give priority to health programs related to population dynamics. The director appointed a multidisciplinary working group to analyze the interrelationships of health and population policies and to advise in the development of further investigations required for such purposes. The participants were:
Reunión del Comité Asesor sobre.
Washington, D. C.
June 1-3, 1970.

Alfredo Díaz Bruzual, Associate Professor of Gynecology, Universidad Central, Caracas, Venezuela;
María Isabel Rodríguez, Decano, Facultad de Medicina, Universidad Central de El Salvador, San Salvador, El Salvador;
Moye Freyman, Director, Carolina Population Center, School of Public Health, University of North Carolina;
Samuel M. Wishik, Director, Division for Programs, Development and Evaluation, International Institute for the Study of Human Reproduction, Columbia University, New York;
Jorge Rosner, Director, Instituto Latinoamericano de Fisiología de la Reproducción, San Miguel, Provincia de Buenos Aires;
William Steward, Chancellor, Louisiana State University, Medical Center;
Leona Baumgartner, Professor of Preventive Medicine, Harvard Medical School;
Philip A. Corfam, Director, Center for Population Research, National Institute of Health, Public Health Service;
Guillermo Adriasola, Investigador de la Unidad de Salud y Dinámica de la Población en el Departamento de Salud Pública, Facultad de Medicina, Universidad de Chile, Santiago, Chile.

PLANIFICACIÓN, 8º Congreso Interamericano de.
Salvador, Bahia, Brazil.
September 13-18, 1970.

The Sociedade Brasileira de Planificação organized the meeting for the Sociedad Interamericana de Planificación (SIAP). The theme of the meeting was: Evaluación y perspectivas de la planificación para el desarrollo de América Latina. Six hundred professionals, researchers, planners, and technicians, most from Latin America and some from Europe, participated in the proceedings. Papers were read by the following:
Marcos Kaplan, Argentina: Aspectos políticos de la planificación en América Latina;
Harold Wood, Canada: Aspectos geográficos de la planificación en América Latina;

Latin American Research Review

- Norberto González, Chile: Planteamientos sobre el desarrollo económico de América Latina;
- Fernando Enrique Cardoso, Brazil: Tendencias del desarrollo socioeconómico de América Latina;
- Oswaldo A. Sunkel, Chile: Desarrollo, subdesarrollo, dependencia, marginación y desigualdades espaciales;
- Helio Jaguaribe, Brazil: Ciência e Tecnologia no Quadro Socio-Político da América Latina;
- Comisión de Plan Nacional de Aprovechamiento de los Recursos Hidráulicos, Rep. de Venezuela: Prospección industrial de Venezuela—1970/2000;
- : Venezuela año 2000—Requerimiento de tierras agrícolas de buena calidad: Un modelo de programación lineal;
- Alexander King, France: The Nature of Science Policy;
- Tulio de Andrea, Italy: Comentarios sobre la política industrial de los países latino-americanos;
- Alejandro B. Rofman, Argentina: Un caso de desarrollo industrial no planificado;
- Frank W. Young: Measuring Rural Change and Progress—Applications of a New Approach;
- Michel Ronnemaïson, France, and Sergio Dotto, Italy: Rapport de Mission Effectué dans les Puilles;
- Marcos Kaplan, Argentina: Documentos conceptuales de marco para las deliberaciones del VIII congreso;
- Amílcar Tupiassu, Brazil: A Experiência de CTSF (Programa de Ciência, Tecnologia e Sociedade do Futuro) do IDESP (Instituto de Desenvolvimento Econômico e Social do Pará);
- Paolo A. D'Ongania: Influencia de los modelos anglosajones en la formación y definición de los "standars" urbanos utilizados en los nuevos desarrollos en Venezuela;
- J. R. Lasuén, Spain: Urbanización y desarrollo—una hipótesis sobre la interacción de las concentraciones sectoriales y las aglomeraciones geográficas;
- Charles Frankenhoff: National Urbanization Policy in Brazil;
- J. J. Donohue, Brazil: The Future's Perspective and Its use in Planning;
- Ary Garcia Rosa: Planejamento Local Integrado—A Experiência da Região Sul do Estado do Espírito Santo;
- Sector de Comunicaciones de la República de Argentina: El plan de desarrollo de los recursos humanos;
- Pedro Pinchas Geiger: Um Exemplo de Crescimento da Cidade Media;
- Bernardo Quintana: Queretaro—un caso de desarrollo;
- Melvin Kranzberg: Science Technology—Development Historical Perspectives;
- Paulo Sérgio Souza e Silva: Organização Territorial Urbana—Aspectos Metodológicos;
- Ismael Fuenzalida, Chile: Dimensiones socio-culturales de las fluctuaciones en las tasas de fecundidad;

Rómulo Almeida, Brazil: Planejamento Regional;
 Jorge Never, Brazil: Interiorização do Desenvolvimento a Base de um Centro Micro-Regional no Cariri—Estado do Ceara.

The meeting was distinguished by the presence of representatives of international organizations, and high government functionaries from Brazil, including the Minister of Planning. The papers will be available in a published form at the end of 1971 from SIAP, Secretaría General, Apartado 1729, San Juan, Puerto Rico 00903. The 9th SIAP conference will be held in Bogotá, Colombia, September 17–23, 1972.

DOCUMENTATION, 35th Conference and International Congress of. Buenos Aires. September 14–18, 1970.

The meeting was organized by José S. Gandolfo, Councillor to the CNICT. A total of 40 papers were presented to a group of participants from all over the world. The papers relevant to Latin America were:

- Betty Johnson de Vodanovic, Comisión Nacional de Investigación Científica y Tecnológica, Chile: El sistema nacional de información y documentación en Chile;
 Marietta Daniels Shepard, Jefe, Programa de Desarrollo de Bibliotecas, OEA: La organización de los Estados Americanos y su potencial para la colaboración en el mejoramiento de la documentación científica en América Latina;
 Forum: La Clasificación Decimal Universal en Latinoamérica y las actividades presentes y futuras del FID/CLA/CDU.
 Abel Rodolfo Geoghegan, Universidad Católica de Argentina, Buenos Aires: Obras de referencia de Argentina. Publicaciones fundamentales de 1964–1969;
 Ernesto G. Gietz, Facultad de Ingeniería, Universidad de Buenos Aires: Herramientas o elementos para la localización de material bibliográfico en la Argentina. (Catálogos colectivos. Catálogos centralizados.);
 Fernando Monge, Centro Internacional de Agricultura Tropical, Cali, Colombia: Un instrumento de medida para predecir el uso de la biblioteca en una institución colombiana.

POLITICAL SCIENCE
 8th World Congress of.
 Munich, Germany.
 September 1970.

Of the papers presented at the 8th congress of the International Political Science Association, the following had a Latin American content:

- Simon Schwartzman, Escola Brasileira de Administração Pública da Fundação Getúlio Vargas: Twenty Years of Representative Democracy in Brazil—1945–1964;
 Frederick C. Turner, University of Connecticut: Catholicism and Nationalism in Latin America;
 Carlos A. Astiz, State University of New York at Albany: The Catholic Church in Politics: The Peruvian Case;

Latin American Research Review

Henry Wells, University of Pennsylvania: Party Finance in Costa Rica;

Edward Chaszar, Indiana University of Pennsylvania: Students and Politics in Brazil under Goulart; Cândido Mendes, President, Brazilian Society for Instruction: Confrontation and Rationalized Development in Latin America.

For further information, write: International Political Science Association, Rue des Champs Elysées—43—1050, Brussels, Belgium.

POSIBLES RELACIONES

TRASATLÁNTICAS PRECOLOMBINAS,

1 Simposio Internacional sobre.

Canary Islands, Spain.

December 6–12, 1970.

Luis Pericot, and José Alcina, both officers of the Consejo Superior de Investigaciones Científicas, Dirección General de Relaciones Culturales, Instituto de Estudios Africanos organized the conference sponsored by this same institution. The theme was: Relaciones entre el Viejo Mundo y América, a través del Atlántico en el período pre-colombino en el aspecto antropológico, paleontológico, arqueológico, etnológico, histórico, etc. The papers related to Latin America were as follows:

Helmut de Terra: Nuevas indicaciones de contactos transatlánticos antiguos en América;

José Alcina: El formativo americano a la luz de los posibles influjos recibidos por el Atlántico;

Raymond Mauny: Hypotheses concernant les relations précolombiennes entre l'Afrique et l'Amérique;

Manuel Ballesteros: La idea de la Atlántida en el pensamiento de los diversos tiempos y su caloración como realidad geográfica;

Juan Schoginber: El mito platónico de la Atlántida frente a la teoría de las vinculaciones transatlánticas prehistóricas entre el Viejo Mundo y América;

Claudio Esteva: El Circummediterráneo y sus relaciones con la América prehispanica. Difusión o paralelismo?;

Alfredo Jimenez: Matrimonio entre hermanos: difusión o paralelismo?;

Carmelo García Cabrera: Interrelaciones entre fauna marina del Caribe y Canarias;

Juan Comas: La supuesta difusión transatlántica de la trepanación prehistórica;

Arturo Valls: Consideraciones antropogenéticas sobre el poblamiento precolombino de América;

Enrique Marco Dorta: Viajes accidentales de Canarias a América;

Federico Perez Castro: La inscripción fenicio-cananea de Paraiba;

Demetrio Ramos: Los contactos atlánticos decisivos, previos al viaje de Colón;

Antonio Rumeu: Cristobal Colón, cronista de las expediciones atlánticas.

The papers are being published during 1971 in the journal: Anuario de Estudios Atlánticos. For further information, write: José Alcina, Departamento de Antropología y Etnología de América, Facultad de Filosofía y Letras, Ciudad Universitaria, Madrid—3, Spain.

POLITIK IN LATEINAMERIKA, Wissenschaftliche Tagung.

Berlin.

December 7–11, 1970.

The Latin American division of the Forschungsinstitut der Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung sponsored the meeting to bring together young researchers working on Latin America. The following institutions were represented: Otto-Suhr-Institut, Arnold-Bergstraesser Institut, Ibero-Amerika-Verein Hamburg, Deutsche Welle, Friedrich-Naumann-Stiftung für Entwicklungsländer, Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik, Deutsche Stiftung für Entwicklungsländer, Lateinamerika-Instituts der Freien Universität Berlin, Max-Planck-Institut für Wettbewerbsforschung München, Soziologische Institut der Universitäten Köln und Saarbrücken, and the Forschungsinstitut der Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung. The papers presented addressed themselves to three themes: 1. Problems of the Political Systems; 2. Obstacles to Latin American Political Development; 3. International Factors in Latin American Political Development. For further information write: Dokumentations-Leitstelle der ADLAF, Institut für Iberoamerika-Kunde, 2 Hamburg 36, Alsterglaci 8, Germany.

METODOS DE PREVISIÓN DE LA
OFERTA Y LA DEMANDA DE
RECURSOS HUMANOS DE NIVEL
SUPERIOR, Seminario sobre.

El Colegio de México.

December 14–18, 1970.

The theme of the meeting, organized by Daniel Murayama, was: Recursos humanos. The sponsors were: the Development Center of the OECD, the Colegio de Mexico, and the Asociación Nacional de Universidades.

The participants were: Maria Antonieta Barron Pérez, Centro de Economía Aplicada, Escuela Nacional de Economía, UNAM; David Barkin, Centro de Estudios Económicos y Demográficos, El Colegio de México; Isaac Bazbaz, Facultad de Química, UNAM, Instituto Mexicano de Ingresos Químicos; Clara J. de Bialostosky, CEED-CM; Gustavo Cabrera A., CEED-CM; Hector Correa, Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, University of Pittsburgh; Edmundo de Alba, UNAM; Michel Debeauvais, Development Center, OECD; Jorge E. Domínguez Ramírez, Centro de Planeación Nacional de la Educación Superior, Asociación Nacional Universitaria de Instituciones de Enseñanza Superior; Adalberto García Rocha, CEED-CM; Alejandro Hazas, Instituto Mexicano del Seguro Social; J. P. Jallade, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development; Richard Jolly, The Institute of Development Studies at the University of Sussex; Armando Labra Manjarrez, Oficina de Planeación, Comisión Técnica de Planeación Universitaria, UNAM; Pablo Latapi, Centro de Estudios Educativos, A.C.; Vidal Luna Rivera, Comisión Técnica de Planeación Universitaria, UNAM; Alejandro Martínez, Centro de Investigaciones Económicas, Universidad de Nuevo León; Alejandro Martínez Jiménez, Instituto de Investigaciones Sociales, UNAM; Oscar Méndez Nápoles, Oficina de Recursos Humanos, Banco de México, Centro Nacional de Productividad; Adolfo Mir, Instituto de Investigaciones Sociales, UNAM; José B. Morelos González, CEED-CM; Carlos Muñoz Izquierdo, Centro de Estudios Educativos; Daniel Murayama, CEED-CM; Blanca Petriocioli Morales, Asociación Nacional de Universidades e Instituciones de Enseñanza Superior; Alicia Pineda Espinoza, Programa Regional del Empleo para América Latina y el Caribe; George Psacharopoulos, London School of Economics; Alfonso Rangel Guerra, Asociación Nacional de Universidades e Instituciones de Enseñanza Superior; Víctor Ramírez Romero, Facultad de Química, UNAM, Instituto Mexicano de Ingenieros Químicos; Ignacio Riva Palacio Huidobro, Comisión de Planeación Universitaria, UNAM; Ernesto Schiefelbein, Universidad de Chile, Instituto de Economía y Planeamiento; Hector Sierra Elizondo, Oficina de Recursos Humanos, Banco de México; Victor Urquidi, Colegio de México.

COUNCIL ON HIGHER EDUCATION IN THE AMERICAN REPUBLICS,

Annual Conference.

Santa Maria, Peru.

February 14–18, 1971.

The CHEAR sponsored the conference organized by James F. Tierney. The theme was: Problems of Higher Education in Latin America and the United States. The two central aspects of the problem examined were:

1. Environmental quality: educational aspects, resource conservation and environmental control; and 2. Problems of university governance.

The participants were: Feruccio Accame, Inter-American Development Bank, Lima, Peru; Raúl Acosta R., Acting Director, Institute of International Education, Lima; Edgardo Boeninger K., Rector, Universidad de Chile, Santiago, Chile; Richard W. Dye, Representative, Ford Foundation, Lima; Eduardo Z. Faraco, Reitor, Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul, Porto Alegre, Brazil; William E. Felling, Program Officer, National Affairs Division, Resource and Environment Office, The Ford Foundation, New York, New York; Fernando Garcia Roel, Presidente, Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios Superiores de Monterrey, N.L., Mexico; Juan de Dios Guevara, Rector, Universidad Nacional Mayor de San Marcos, Lima; Orris C. Herfindahl, Resources for the Future, Washington, D.C.; Kenneth Holland, President, Institute of International Education, New York, New York; Howard W. Johnson, President, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Massachusetts; Thomas F. Jones, President, University of South Carolina, Columbia, South Carolina; Grayson Kirk, President Emeritus, Columbia University, New York; Carlos Alberto Mallman, Executive President, Fundación Bariloche, San Carlos de Bariloche, Argentina; Martin Meyerson, President, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Carlos Monge, Rector, Universidad Peruana "Cayetano Heredia," Lima; Martha T. Muse, President, The Tinker Foundation, New York; Pearl G. Purcell, Vice President and Special Assistant to the President, Institute of International Education, New York; Maurice H. Purcell, Director of Admissions, Borough of Manhattan Community College, New York; Manuel Rodriguez Escribens, Rector, Universidad Agraria del Peru—La Molina, Lima; Roberto Santos, Reitor, Universidade de Bahia, Salvador, Bahia, Brazil; Frederick Seitz, President, The Rockefeller University, New York; Philip Sherlock, Secretary General, Association of Caribbean Universities and Research Institutes, Kingston, Jamaica, W.I.; James F. Tierney, Vice President, Institute of International Education and International Councils on Higher Education, New York; Carlos Tunnermann Bernheim, Rector, Universidad Autónoma de Nicaragua, León, Nicaragua.

The basic conclusion reached was that the Latin American Universities need to think through the problem of priorities with respect to university programs dealing with environmental problems. It was also recommended that this topic be considered in greater depth through the mechanism of a seminar or workshop to which would be invited not only university presidents, but also specialists representing different facets of the problem. The proceedings will be published by the CHEAR. It is anticipated that the next conference will be held in February 1972. For further information, write: James F. Tierney, International Council on Higher Education, 809 U.N. Plaza, New York, New York 10017.

LATIN AMERICA, 2nd Annual Conference on.
UCLA.
March 5-7, 1971.

The Student Association for Latin American Studies at the University of California at Los Angeles sponsored the meeting. It was organized by Marie-Catherine Artaud and Kathleen Boscardin around the theme: Dependence in Latin America: Problems and Solutions. Johannes Wilbert, the Director of the Latin American Center made the opening remarks. The activities were as follows:

SESSION 1. Jovelino Pereira Ramos: Paulo Freire and Educational Development in Latin America;

Ethnographic Films: To Find our Life: The Peyote Hunt of the Huichols of Mexico; Shunka's Story.

SESSION 2. Julio Cotler, Instituto de Estudios Peruanos, Lima, Peru: Dependence and Nationalism in Peru;

Anthony Leeds, The University of Texas at Austin: Dependence and Marginality.

SESSION 3. Frank Bonilla, Stanford University: Elites and Dependence; Maria del Rosario Green-Macías: Economic Integration in Latin America.

SESSION 4. Maurice Zeitlin, University of Wisconsin: The Chilean Revolution: The Ballot or the Bullet?

SESSION 5. Osvaldo Sunkel, Instituto de Estudios Internacionales, Santiago, Chile: Transnational Capitalism and National Disintegration in Latin America;

Arnold C. Harberger, University of Chicago: A Review of Latin American Economic Policy.

The papers will be published by the Latin American Center at UCLA.

Latin American Research Review

MODERNIZATION-URBANIZATION PROBLEMS IN LATIN AMERICA,

Colloquium on.

University of Illinois.

March 16–24, 1971.

Robert E. Scott organized the meeting, sponsored by the Center for Latin American Studies of the University of Illinois at Urbana. The purpose of the colloquium was to follow up case study research underway since 1969 on problems of modernization and urbanization in Latin America. The participants were all from the University of Illinois. The papers were as follows: Robert Byars, Political Science: Culture Politics, and the Urban Factory Worker in Brazil: The Case of Zé Maria;

Mauricio Solaún and Sidney Kronus, Sociology: Structural Dimensions of Racial Problems in the Modernization-Urbanization of Cartagena, Colombia;

René Vandendries, Economics: Internal Migration and Economic Development in Peru;

Douglas Butterworth, Anthropology: Squatter Settlements in the City of Oaxaca: The Structure of Diversity;

John Thompson, Geography: Modernization and Spatial and Temporal Change in the Market Milk Provisioning Area of Mexico City;

René Vandendries: An Appraisal of the Reformist Development Strategy of Peru;

Roger Findley, College of Law: Problems Faced by Colombia's Agrarian Reform Institute in Acquiring and Distributing Land;

Joseph Love, History: External Financing and Domestic Politics: The Case of São Paulo, 1889–1931;

Robert E. Scott, Political Science: Military Regimes and National Integrating Mechanisms.

The proceedings are scheduled to appear in an edited volume.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN COUNCIL ON LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES, Meeting.

Arizona State University.

March 26–27, 1971.

The ASU and the Thunderbird Graduate School of Management sponsored the meeting, of which the theme was: Population Paradoxes in Latin America. Melvin J. Frost, Department of Geography, ASU, was responsible for the organization. The sessions were as follows:

SESSION 1. Political Science. Presiding: Lawrence Koslow, ASU.

William Furlong, Utah State University: Improved Local Government Capability in

Peru and a Dilemma for the Military;

Louis Ruybalia, New Mexico State University: Favelas of Rio de Janeiro;

Richard L. Clinton, University of North Carolina: Portents for Politics in Latin American Population Expansion.

SESSION 2. History. Presiding: Manuel Machado, University of Montana;

John Hart, University of North Dakota: Agrarian Revolution in Mexico;

Robert Hayes, Texas Technical University: The Theory of the Moderating Power and the Brazilian Military.

Commentator: Rollie E. Poppino, University of California, Davis.

SESSION 3. Literature. Presiding: Ralph Kite, University of Colorado. Charles Tatum, University of New Mexico: Confrontation with the Unauthentic in José Donoso's Coronación;

Gary Brower, University of New Mexico: Díles que no me matan: Aproximación de su estructura y significado;

David W. Foster, Arizona State University: Integral Role of "El informe sobre ciegos," in Sabatos Sobre heroes y tumbos;

Mark J. Curran, Arizona State University: The Popular Poet as Spokesman of the Masses in Northeast Brasil; Gerrit de Jong, Jr., Brigham Young University: Social and Economic Theory of Jorge Amado.

SESSION 4. Geography and Economics. Presiding: William Ray, Northern Arizona University.

Charles Sargent, University of Nebraska: The Paradox of Primacy and Related Concepts in Latin America;

Thomas Harblin, Colorado State University: The Impact of Industrialization and Urbanization on Ideal and Real Family Size in São Paulo;

Thomas Kelsy, Illinois State University, Normal: Population Pressures in Brazil.

At the dinner on March 26, the speaker was Raul Castro, Esq.

SOCIETY AND THE ARTS IN LATIN AMERICA, Conference on.

Columbia University.

April 12–14, 1971.

The conference was organized jointly by the Institute of Latin American Studies and the School of the Arts, and sponsored by the Conference Center of the School of International Affairs of Columbia University. The steering committee was composed of Frank MacShane and Andre Racz of the School of the Arts, and Kempton E. Webb, Director, Institute of Latin American Studies. The purpose of the conference was to focus the insights and perceptions of social scientists and artists on a number of broad themes dealing with Latin America. The presentations and discussions were intended to counterbalance the trend of ever-increasing specialization within each discipline which has produced a communications gap between different approaches to comprehending and appreciating Latin America's complexities. The sessions were as follows: SESSION 1: Localism and Internationalism in Latin American Society and the arts.

Panelists: Jorge Luis Borges, Fernando Belaunde-Terry, Miguel Serrano; Discussants: Charles Wagley, Emir Rodriguex Monegal, Selden Rodman, Homero Aridjis.

SESSION 2: Impact of Cultural and Racial Themes upon National Life.

Panelists: Florestan Fernandes, Derek Walcott, Fernando Cámara;

Latin American Research Review

Discussants: Gregory Rabassa, Julio Marzán, Frank MacShane, Arturo Morales-Carrión.

SESSION 3: The Environment;

Panelists: Hilgard O'Reilly Sternberg, Mario Vargas Llosa, Benjamin Viel;

Discussants: Nelida Piñon, Fernando Belaunde-Terry, Kempton E. Webb.

SESSION 4: The City.

Panelists: Ervin Galantay, Nicanor Parra, José Villegas;

Discussants: Benjamin Viel, William Mangin.

SESSION 5: Poverty.

Panelists: William Mangin, Glauber Rocha, Rene Marquez;

Discussants: Gregory Rabassa, Arthur Barron.

SESSION 6: The Relation of the Arts to Social and Political Reforms.

Panelists: Jacqueline Skiles, Fernando Alegría, Jorge Carrera Andrade; Discussants: Andre Raczy, Antonio Frasconi, Andres Iduarte, Urs Jaeggi, Robert Bly, Miguel Littin.

In addition to the working sessions, there was a movie shown on the evening of April 13; Deus e Diabo na Terra do Sol, directed by Glauber Rocha.

SOUTHWESTERN COUNCIL OF LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES,
4th Annual Conference of.
Pan American University.
April 15–17, 1971.

The Pan American University at Edinburg, Texas, hosted the 4th annual meeting of SCOLAS. The theme of the conference was: Cultural and Diplomatic Exchanges between Mexico and the U.S. in the 20th Century. Richard Johnson delivered the special address at the plenary session preceding the following program:

Panel 1: Presiding: David Vigness, Texas Tech University.

Lyle C. Brown, Baylor University: Rio Grande and Colorado River Waters in Recent U.S.-Mexican Diplomacy;

Charles Frazier, Sam Houston State University: The Veracruz Occupation and Public Opinion in the United States.

Panel 2: Presiding: Arnulfo Martinez, Pan American University.

W. Woodrow Anderson, Southwest Texas State University: American Radicals and the Mexican Revolution: The "Cutting Edge" of Liberal Interpretation;

Carlos H. Monsanto, University of Houston: Observaciones sobre la caracterización de Bolton en el Gesticulador.

Panel 3: Presiding: Harley Oberhelman, Texas Tech University.

Denneth M. Taggart, Trinity University: The Cycle of Futility in the Fiction of Juan Rulfo; Lino Garcia, Jr., Pan American University: Carlos Fuentes—Imagen, ideal del México moderno.

Panel 4: Presiding: R. N. McMichael, Pan American University.

Edward F. Baldwin, Pan American University: Mexico's Terms of Trade with the United States;

John R. Freeland, Attorney, McAllen, Texas: Potential for Industrialization in the U.S.-Mexico Border Area.

Panel 4: Graduate Students: Presiding: Robert E. Brown, Sam Houston University. Barbara Morrison, Baylor University: Ambassador Morrow's Influence on United States-Mexican Relations, 1927-1929;

David Anderson, Baylor University: Selected Aspects of U.S.-Mexican Economic Relations since 1964;

Charles Tesar, The University of Texas at Austin: Recent Chilean Copper Policy.

Panel 5: Presiding: Ward S. Albro III, Texas A & I University.

Leonard Cardenas, Jr., Louisiana State University: Mexico's Foreign Policy: Some Considerations for Research;

Donald D. Brand, The University of Texas at Austin: Geographic Data Available to Sixteenth Century Planners for New Spain.

WEST INDIAN HISTORY

Conference

University of Guyana.

April 15-17, 1971.

The Conference was sponsored by the University of West Indies, and held at the University of Guyana at Turkeyen. Woodville Marshall was responsible for organization. The following papers were presented:

Elsa Goveia, University of the West Indies: Debien's Contribution to the History of West Indian Slavery;

Barry Higman, University of the West Indies: The Demography of Jamaica, 1817-34;

Eddie Brathwaite, University of the West Indies: The Political Control of Slaves: The Role of the Jamaican Assembly;

Bernard Marshall, University of the West Indies: Slavery and the Plantation System in the British Windward Islands up to the First Quarter of the 19th Century;

Bobby Moore, University of Guyana: Slave Rebellion in Guyana;

M. Frostin, Centre d'Enseignement Supérieur Littéraire, Guadalupe: Maroons and Runaways in the West Indies during the 18th Century;

Tom Matthews, University of Puerto Rico: Victor Schoelcher's Visit to the Non-French Islands 1840-41;

Henri Bangou, CESL, Guadalupe: The Concept of Alienation and Slavery in the Caribbean;

Jerry Handler, Southern Illinois University: Houses and Settlements of Plantation Slaves in Barbados.

MEDIA 3 AMERICAS: FOCUS MEXICO. The meeting was organized by Joseph A. Taylor of the School of Communications at the University of Texas. The panel topics were: The Government's Role in International Communication; International Business and Communication; The Future of International Communication Technology; and International Communications and the News Media. The following were among the participants:

Frank Shakespeare, Director, USIA, Washington; Herbert Klein, Communications Director, The White House; James C. Hagerty, Vice President, ABC, George Christian, Former Press Secretary to President L. B. Johnson; Richard L. Tobin, Communications Editor, Saturday Review; Nichols Johnson, Member, Federal Communications Commission; Sam Summerlin, Latin American News Editor, The Associated Press; Wilbur Landrey, Latin American News Editor, United Press International; Fausto Zapata, Subsecretary for Information to the President of Mexico; Enrique Herrera, Subsecretary for Communications and Transport; Julio Scherer, Director of Excelsior; Alejandro Carrillo, Director of El Nacional, Romulo O'Farrill, Jr., General Director of Novedades; and Miguel Aleman, Jr., News Director, Telesistema Television Network.

Frank Shakespeare, Director, USIA, Washington; Herbert Klein, Communications Director, The White House; James C. Hagerty, Vice President, ABC, George Christian, Former Press Secretary to President L. B. Johnson; Richard L. Tobin, Communications Editor, Saturday Review; Nichols Johnson, Member, Federal Communications Commission; Sam Summerlin, Latin American News Editor, The Associated Press; Wilbur Landrey, Latin American News Editor, United Press International; Fausto Zapata, Subsecretary for Information to the President of Mexico; Enrique Herrera, Subsecretary for Communications and Transport; Julio Scherer, Director of Excelsior; Alejandro Carrillo, Director of El Nacional, Romulo O'Farrill, Jr., General Director of Novedades; and Miguel Aleman, Jr., News Director, Telesistema Television Network.

POLITICAL MODERNIZATION AND INTEGRATION IN THE ANDEAN REGION. First Annual Conference on Andean Studies.

Syracuse University.
April 23–24, 1971.

The Latin American Studies Program of the Maxwell School at Syracuse University sponsored and hosted the meeting for the Northeast Consortium for Andean Studies. The Consortium was founded in 1969 by joint agreement among five universities: Buffalo, Cornell, Pennsylvania State, Pittsburgh, and Syracuse. The following sessions were held:

Panel: Modernization in Bolivia and Peru. Presiding: William Stein, University of Buffalo.

James Malloy, University of Pittsburgh: The Military and Politics in Bolivia, 1964–1970;

William Mangin, Syracuse University: Peruvian Land Reform.

Discussants: Hans Buechler, Syracuse University, and Herbert Klein, Columbia University.

Panel: Modernization in Chile. Presiding: Cole Blasier, University of Pittsburgh.

Paul Sigmund, Princeton University: Chilean Elections and Chilean Public Opinion, 1964–1970;

Theodore H. Moran, Harvard University: Dependencia and the future of Nationalism in Chile.

Discussants: Arpad Von Lazar, Fletcher School, Tufts University, and Alejandro Portes, University of Illinois, Urbana.

The dinner speaker on the first day of the conference was Horacio H. Godoy, Latin American School of Political Science and Public Administration.

MEXICAN POLITICAL INQUIRY,
Conference on.
The University of Texas at Austin.
April 26–27, 1971.

Stanley Ross, Provost for Arts and Sciences of the University organized the meeting, with the assistance of William Glade, the Acting Director of the Institute of Latin American Studies, which sponsored the event. The following papers were presented:

SESSION 1: Lorenzo Meyer, Colegio de México: The Political Development of Mexico in the Twentieth Century and External Dependence.

Commentators: Richard Sinkin and David Garza.

Henry Landsberger, University of North Carolina: Participation of the Rural Population in the Mexican Political System.

Commentators: Harley Browning and Charles Parrish.

SESSION 2: Miguel Wionczek: The Mexican Political System and Economic Development.

Commentators: Wendell Gordon and Richard N. Adams.

Frederick Turner, University of Connecticut: Recent Trends in the Democratization of the Mexican Political System.

Commentators: Lawrence Graham and Henry Selby.

SESSION 3: Daniel Cosío Villegas: Possibilities of Change in the Mexican Political System.

Commentators: Stanley Ross and William Glade.

Porfirio Muñoz Ledo, Office of the President, Mexico: The Political Program of the Luis Echevarría Administration.

Commentators: Paul Rosenstein-Rodan and Friedrich Katz.

All the commentators were faculty members of the University of Texas. The proceedings will be published by the Institute of Latin American Studies.

INTERAMERICAN AVIATION LAW
Conference, The 8th.
Miami, Florida.
April 28–30, 1971.

The conference was co-sponsored by the School of Law of the University of Miami, and by the University of Panama. The speakers were:

Leroy H. Wilcox, Senior Vice President, Parker & Co. International, Inc.: Airline Insurance;

Frank A. Cardman, Director of Security, Pan American Airway, Inc.: Airline Security;

Alvaro Bauza Araujo, Attorney and Professor of Law, Uruguay: Latin American Aviation Policies;

Julio Cesar Morales Saenz, Attorney at Law, Panama: Projected Aviation Code of Panama.

Latin American Research Review

In addition to hearing the speakers, the participants saw a film, They Came in Peace, a documentary of space exploration and conquest of space sponsored by the Gulf Oil Corporation, and made a trip to Cape Kennedy. Further information: Law Center, University of Miami, P.O. Box 8087, Coral Gables, Florida 33124.

SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH ON LATIN AMERICA: THE USES OF QUANTITATIVE DATA.

University of Illinois.

April 28–May 13, 1971.

The theme was: Trends in quantitative research; new data banks; handling of incomplete series; means for assessing reliability and validity of aggregate data; limitations of quantitative analysis. This was the first meeting ever held on interdisciplinary quantitative research, and dealing with Latin American data bank materials. The participants were: Alejandro Portes, Sociology, University of Illinois; George Cowgill and Robert C. Hunt, Anthropology, Brandeis University; Peter H. Smith, History, University of Wisconsin; Howard L. Gauthier, Geography, Ohio State University; Philippe C. Schmitter, Political Science, University of Chicago.

CALIFORNIA BRAZILIANISTS,

Conference of.

Monterey Institute of Foreign Affairs.

May 7–8, 1971.

American History; and 2. Opportunities and need for the study of regional history in Brazil. The participants were: E. Bradford Burns, University of California at Los Angeles; Robert Cuniff, University of California at San Diego; Tim Harding, California State College at Los Angeles; Phil Brian Johnson, San Francisco State College, Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies; Richard Kornweibel, Sacramento State College; Rollie Poppino, University of California at Davis; Margaret Todaro, University of Southern California; Richard Morse, Center for Advanced International Studies, Stanford University; Eugene Ridings; Eul Soo Pang, California State College at Hayward; John Wirth, Stanford University; Luis Dilermando da Cruz; David Wood, San Fernando State College. The next meeting will be held in May 1972.

INTERAMERICAN PROGRAM FOR LINGUISTICS AND LANGUAGE TEACHING, 6th Symposium of the University of Puerto Rico.

June 14–19, 1971.

The Center for Latin American Studies and the Center for International Comparative Studies of the University of Illinois at Urbana sponsored the meeting, which was organized by Joseph L. Love. The Phil Brian Johnson, Director of Latin American Studies at the Monterey Institute organized the meeting. The themes were: 1. Problems in teaching Brazilian and Spanish

The 6th symposium of PILEI, which took place in Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, was organized by Ruben del Rosario. The theme of the meeting was: Linguistics in the Caribbean, and the program as a whole dealt with language problems in Latin America and the Caribbean. The papers are being published. The next PILEI meeting will be held in Ottawa, Canada, in 1973. For further information, write: PILEI, Matías Romero No. 87-C, México 12, D.F., Mexico.

FUTURE MEETINGS

MALAS, the MIDWEST ASSOCIATION for LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES Meeting, and the meeting of the DIRECTORS OF MIDWEST LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES PROGRAMS. University of Kansas. October 21–22, 1971. For information, write: William J. Griffith, Director, Center for Latin American Studies, University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas 66044.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES ASSOCIATION, Annual Meeting. Austin, Texas. December 2–5, 1971. The third annual meeting of LASA will be held at the University of Texas at Austin. Henry A. Landsberger is organizing the conference which will include a general business meeting, a film, "Antonio das mortes," a presentation by Los Folkloristas, a Mexican dance group, and the following panels: Paths in Autonomy and Innovation: Chile, Cuba and Peru; Women and Men in Latin America; Educational Philosophy and Current Role of Area Studies; Financing Latin American Studies and Research; Issues in Population Policy; The Colossus of the North: U.S.-Latin American Relations; Economic Issues: Integration and Investment; Pre-Columbian Cultures Today; and Organization and Content of Interdisciplinary Courses. The guest speaker will be Leopoldo Zea. For additional information write: Professor Henry A. Landsberger, Department of Sociology, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514.

AMERICANIZATION OF THE GULF COAST, 1803–1850, Pensacola, Florida, December 3–4, 1971. Lucius F. Ellsworth is responsible for organizing this third annual Gulf Coast History and Humanities Conference. It will feature major papers by Thomas Abernathy, John G. Clar, Clement Eaton, and Bertram Wyatt-Brown. Other speakers will include Robert Brent, Seymour Conner, Herbert J. Doherty, and James Pillar. There will be a pre-conference workshop on Archaeology and the Historical Agency on December 2. Further information: Dr. Lucius F. Ellsworth, John C. Pace Library, University of West Florida, Pensacola, Florida 32504.

PSYCHOLOGY, 13th Interamerican Congress of Panama City, Panama, December 18–22, 1971. For information: Victor D. Sanua, City College, K-8, City University of New York, New York, New York 10031.

AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION, Annual Meeting of the Honolulu, Hawaii. September (Labor Day weekend) 1972. Information: Ms. Candy Won, American Psychological Association, 1200 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS

THE CARIBBEAN AND LATIN AMERICA. Caracas, Venezuela. Date not yet fixed. Topics: Economic, historical, and political. Further information: Ramón Delgado V., Dirección de Extensión Cultural, Cerro Colorado, Apartado 245, Cumaná, Venezuela.