LAMBETH ESSAYS ON FAITH
LAMBETH ESSAYS ON UNITY
LAMBETH ESSAYS ON MINISTRY

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Editor — each 14s

Essays written at the request of the Archbishop of Canterbury for circulation among those attending the 1968 Lambeth Conference, to lay the basis for the discussions of the various committees. They are now made available to the general public. This findings of the Conference were influenced at many points by the experts who contributed these essays.

THE SCROLLS AND CHRISTIANITY

Theological Collections 11

Matthew Black, Editor — 18s 6d

A symposium by the foremost English-speaking authorities on the Dead Sea Scrolls which covers all the major aspects of current work on the Scrolls, and gives the reader a sound insight in to the accepted scholarly positions at the present time.

DECLARING THE FAITH;
SOMETHING TO DECLARE

Brian Galliers — 15s

Published jointly with the Epworth Press

The author gives an account—sensitive to modern difficulties, clear, reasonable, relevant—of the Faith we are to declare.

DECLARING THE FAITH: THE PRINTED WORD

Dewi Morgan & Michael Perry — 15s

Published jointly with the Epworth Press

The local and the national press, the parish magazine, the church bookstall and library,—all can be used to declare the Faith. The two authors use their experience of journalism and publishing to initiate readers into the skills needed to use the printed word skilfully.

The Cambridge History of the Bible

Vol. 2: The West from the Fathers of the Reformation

Edited by G. W. H. LAMPE

The Cambridge History of the Bible treats the Bible as the central document of Western civilization: a source of doctrine and of Church government, and an influence on education, on the growth of scholarship, and on art and literature, as well as on the liturgy and life of the Church. This volume covers the period from Jerome and the Fathers to the time of Erasmus. Each chapter is written by an expert on the subject, who summarizes existing knowledge and, in many cases, advances it by reporting his own research.

The Text of the New Testament

Its Transmission, Corruption, and Restoration

Bruce M. Metzger

This book supplies information concerning both the science and the art of textual criticism as applied to the New Testament. With an eye to the needs of the student, the author discusses a wide variety of textual problems, ranging from the very simple to the more complex. The second edition embodies references to more than 150 additional books and articles dealing with Greek manuscripts, early versions, and critical studies of recently discovered witnesses to the text of the New Testament.

Theological Science

Based on the Hewett Lectures for 1959

Thomas F. Torrance

In this important book Professor Torrance shows that theological science necessarily differs from other sciences through the uniqueness of its object, for God cannot be treated merely as one of the constituents of the universe. This is a philosophical investigation on the highest level deserving close attention from scholars and advanced students in theology and the philosophy of science. 84/- net

Gregory of Nazianus

Rhetor and Philosopher

Rosemary Radford Ruether

This is a study of the complex tension between rhetorical and contemplative culture, between 'literature' and 'philosophy' in the life and thought of St. Gregory of Nazianus. This tension is discussed both in the historical context of fourth-century Christianity and as a personal tension within St. Gregory's own life. 40/- net

A Patristic Greek Lexicon

Fascicle 5. Addenda et corrigenda

The purpose of the Patristic Greek Lexicon is to provide a summary history of all theologically important words by the Greek Christian writers of the period from the Apostolic Fathers to A.D. 800. It illustrates the lexical history of theological terms and gives as full an account as possible of words important from their treatment in Biblical exegesis. This fascicle completes the work. The first four fascicles are also available.
