CAMBRIDGE LIBRARY COLLECTION

Books of enduring scholarly value

In the spirit of Cambridge University Press's continued commitment to innovation and enterprise, the Cambridge Library Collection will launch in July 2009, making an initial group of 475 out-of-print books available again. Another 1,000 will follow by the end of 2009 and 3,000 titles a year will be added as the program continues.

Drawing from the world-renowned collections in the Cambridge University Library, these books are carefully selected by experts in each subject area because of their scholarly importance or as landmarks in the history of their academic discipline.

Cambridge University Press is using state-of-the-art scanning machines to capture the contents of each book. The files are processed to give a consistently clear, crisp image, and the books finished to the high-quality standard for which the press is recognized around the world. The latest print-on-demand technology ensures that the books will remain available indefinitely.

The Cambridge Library Collection will revive books of enduring scholarly value across a wide range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, science and technology.

THE CREATION AND DESTRUCTION OF VALUE

The Globalization Cycle
HAROLD JAMES

"The reflections of Harold James, an economic historian at Princeton University and a long-time student of what makes globalization happen, would be of interest even in times more tranquil than these. But at a moment when the march of global integration has been stalled by a financial crisis unparalleled since the 1930s, Mr. James is a particularly fitting guide . . . At a time when economists are accused of having forgotten history, yet few historians can explain the world of bank bail-outs and the turmoil they cause, Mr. James has a rare gift for being able to marshal an impressive knowledge of economic and financial history in order to highlight previously unrecognized connections with the past."

Why America Is Not a New Rome

Vaclav Smil

"Why America Is Not a New Rome is significant because, for the first time, it puts comparative perspectives on Rome and the United States in proper and much-needed historical context. This is a timely and valuable intervention."

— Walter Scheidel, Stanford University

232 pp., 57 illus., $24.95 cloth

Urban Modernity

CULTURAL INNOVATION IN THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

Miriam R. Levin, Sophie Forgan, Martina Hessler, Robert H. Kargon, and Morris Low

"This insightful book about élites, cultural quarters, and international exhibitions in five cities across the globe provides a compelling account of how urban modernity was forged between 1850 and World War I. It is essential reading for anyone interested in how cultural influences shaped the new urban identities of a fast-changing world."

— Richard Rodger, University of Edinburgh

272 pp., 25 illus., $30 cloth

Prudence and Pressure

REPRODUCTION AND HUMAN AGENCY IN EUROPE AND ASIA, 1700-1900

Noriko O. Tsuya, Wang Feng, George Alter, James Z. Lee, et al.

"This striking comparative historical study examines the reproductive response to both short-term and long-term economic stress in different regional and cultural settings. It is an outstanding successor to Life Under Pressure."

— Ronald Lee, University of California, Berkeley

Eurasian Population and Family History series • 416 pp., 33 illus., $40 cloth

Now in Paper

Global Imbalances and the Lessons of Bretton Woods

Barry Eichengreen

"Eichengreen's book should be the starting point for the debate about what will happen after the inevitable end of an unsustainable system. Eichengreen has established himself as one of the most important voices in that debate."

— Rawi Abdelal, Business History Review

Cairoli Lectures series • 208 pp., 13 illus., $13 paper
