

The Children of Paul's

The Story of a Theatre Company, 1553–1608

REAVLEY GAIR

The most detailed description to date of the workings of an Elizabethan commercial theatre — the Children of Paul's, a group drawn from the choirboys and housed in the Cathedral. Professor Gair's extensive research has produced a detailed account of the theatre's origins, location, structure, repertoire and audience, and a vivid picture of the personalities involved.

£19.50 net

Plays by Henry Arthur Jones

'The Silver King', 'The Case of Rebellious Susan', 'The Liars'

Edited by RUSSELL JACKSON

By the turn of the century Henry Arthur Jones was among the most prominent British dramatists, a writer who strove to elevate drama to the level of literature whilst constructing plays that were also commercially successful. This volume contains three of his plays, representing the best of his work in different styles: melodrama and society drama.

Hard covers £17.50 net

Paperback £5.95 net

British and American Playwrights, 1750-1920

Max Reinhardt

J. L. STYAN

Max Reinhardt, one of the major theatre figures of this century, was among the first to establish the importance of the director in modern theatre. This book — the first study of Reinhardt to appear in English since 1924 — demonstrates his astonishing versatility, and places his work in the context of Austrian and German culture and world theatrical movements.

Hard covers £17.50 net

Paperback £5.95 net

Directors in Perspective

Dramatic Dialogues

The Duologue of Personal Encounter

ANDREW K. KENNEDY

This is the first study of the different shapes and conventions of dialogue in major drama from Aeschylus to the present day. Following a sustained discussion of the special nature of dramatic dialogue, Andrew Kennedy singles out for detailed study the duologue of personal encounter between protagonists.

Hard covers £25.00 net

Paperback £7.50 net

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Recently published

THEATRE RESEARCH / RECHERCHES THEATRALES
VOLUME XIV

* * * * *

The International Federation for Theatre Research is pleased to announce the publication, after long delay, of Vol. XIV of Theatre Research/Recherches Théâtrales, the journal which preceded Theatre Research International.

It contains articles on Edward Gordon Craig, the Restoration Stage, Dr. Faustus, the Leyden and Amsterdam Stages and a scholarly aid of major importance, the

INDEX TO VOLUMES I-XIV

This final volume concludes the series of the original journal which was started in 1958 and containing many articles of permanent interest and reference value. It will be freely sent to all who were in membership with the Federation in 1974 – the original date for publication – and to all long-standing subscriptions and orders.

It is available for purchase at £6 (post free) U.S.A. $15

A limited supply of back issues of Theatre Research/Recherches Théâtrales (except Vol. I No. 3) is also available at £4 per volume – U.S.A. $10.

A few complete runs of all issues – Vols I-XIV – (with Vol. I No. 3 in photo-facsimile) can be supplied at the special rate of £55 – U.S.A. $135.

* * * * *

Orders and all enquiries regarding the Federation should be sent to

IFTR/FIRT SECRETARIAT
14 WORONZOW ROAD,
LONDON, NW8 6QE
Great Britain