In Memoriam

The Editors report with sorrow the death of Dr. William S. Morris, a member of the Canadian Philosophical Association from its beginning. Dr. Morris received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1955. He taught at Huron College from 1955-1968, and at Lakehead University from 1968-1982. Upon his retirement, he was made Professor Emeritus.

The Editors also report with sorrow the death of Dr. Allison Heartz Johnson in London, England, on October 29, 1983 at age seventy-three. Dr. Johnson came to the University of Western Ontario in 1937 and served as the first Chairman of the Department of Philosophy from 1948 until 1964. He was named Professor Emeritus in 1976 and retired in 1978.

He was a noted authority on the philosophy of the twentieth-century philosopher Alfred North Whitehead, was elected to the Royal Society of Canada in 1957, and also served as a charter member and second President of the Canadian Philosophical Association. Professor Johnson was awarded an honorary Doctor of Letters degree by Western in 1979.

Bertrand Russell's Early Technical Philosophy, 1895-1922

A conference on Russell's early technical philosophy will be held at Trinity College, University of Toronto, June 21-24, 1984. The conference is sponsored by the Russell Editorial Project of McMaster University and co-sponsored by The Institute for the History and Philosophy of Science and Technology at the University of Toronto and the Higher Education Group at The Ontario Institute for Studies in Education. The conference will cover Russell's work on the foundations of Geometry, his plans for an encyclopaedia of the sciences, his work on Leibniz, the early logical manuscripts, the Principles, philosophical issues relating to Principia (the paradoxes, the axiom of choice, the theory of descriptions, the theory of types), his early work on theory of knowledge, philosophy of science, and logical atomism. Among the participants will be A. J. Ayer and W. V. O. Quine. The annual meeting of the Bertrand Russell Society will coincide with the conference.

The registration fee for the conference will be approximately $40.00 and accommodation can be arranged in Trinity College, Toronto. For information on registration and accommodation, please write to Ian Winchester, Coordinator of the Russell Conference '84, The Ontario Institute for Studies in Education, Suite 9-196, 252 Bloor Street West, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, M5S 1V6.

There is still room for some parallel sessions. For those interested in contributing a paper, please send an abstract to the above address.

Ninth International Wittgenstein Symposium

The Austrian Ludwig Wittgenstein Society is pleased to announce the Ninth International Wittgenstein Symposium from August 19 to August 26, 1984, in Kirchberg/Wechsel, Lower Austria (near Vienna). The theme of this year's symposium will be "Philosophy of Mind—Philosophy of Psychology".

The following sections are planned: (1) Wittgenstein, (2) Mind-Body Problem, (3) Empirical Approaches to Mind, (4) Intentionality, (5) Consciousness, Will, (6) New Methods in the Philosophy of Mind and of Psychology, and (7) Functionalism. A seminar on "Fifty Years of Bühler's Theory of Language" will be part of the programme of the conference. In addition, a workshop on "Philosophical, Psychological, and Pedagogical Aspects of a Universal Language" is planned.

Scholars wishing to present a paper on a topic which falls within the above sections or seminars (papers for section 2-7 need not be connected with Wittgenstein's philosophy) should request an abstract style sheet from either Dr. Adolf Hübner, Austrian L. Wittgenstein Society, Markt 234, A-2880 Kirchberg am Wechsel, Austria, or Professor Werner Leinfellner, University of Nebraska, Department of Philosophy, Lincoln, Nebraska, USA 68508. The deadline for receipt of abstracts is June 15, 1984. Should more papers be offered than can be accepted, selection will be by decision of the organizing committee. Contributors will be informed of the committee decision not later than July 15. Official languages will be English and German.

Those planning to attend the conference should contact Dr. A. Hübner at the above address for further information as soon as possible. Conference fees will be 1000 Austrian Schillings for non-students and 300 Austrian Schillings for students.

Centre for Philosophy and Public Affairs

The University of St. Andrews is pleased to announce that its Centre for Philosophy and Public Affairs will open with the First Fulbright Anglo-American Colloquium, to be held from Friday, September 28, to Monday, October 1, 1984. The theme of the conference will be "Ethics and International Affairs". Topics will include Sovereignty and Intervention, Political Realism, The Ethics of Spying, and The Obligations of Rich Countries to Poor. The final session will be an open one, for which papers are invited. Offers of papers, and requests for information, should be sent to Gordon Graham, Centre for Philosophy and Public Affairs, The University of St. Andrews, Scotland, KY16 9AL, from whom registration forms may also be obtained. The closing date for the return of these forms is July 1, 1984.

Canadian Philosophical Monographs

Canadian Philosophical Monographs (formerly Philosophy in Canada: A Monograph Series) is edited by the Faculty of the Department of Philosophy, University of Toronto. Seven volumes have been published to date. The Editorial Committee welcomes original single-authored manuscripts, in English or French, on any philosophical topic. Manuscripts should be between 20,000 and 50,000 words in length (i.e., between a long journal article and a short book) and should be double-spaced throughout, including quotations and footnotes. Manuscripts receive blind appraisal. Enquiries, manuscripts, and requests for our current catalogue should be sent to: The Executive Editor, Canadian Philosophical Monographs, Department of Philosophy, University of Toronto, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1A1.

Monographies Canadiennes de Philosophie

Monographies canadiennes de philosophie (anciennement La philosophie au Canada: une série de monographies) est une collection dirigée par le corps professoral du Département de philosophie de l'Université de Toronto. Le comité de direction est disposé à recevoir des manuscrits originaux provenant d'un seul auteur et rédigés en français ou en anglais, traitant de sujets philosophiques quels qu'ils soient. Ces manuscrits devront comporter entre 20,000 et 50,000 mots (c'est-à-dire se situer entre un article de revue et un petit livre); ils devront être dactylographiés à double interligne, y compris les notes et citations. L'évaluation des manuscrits soumis sera anonyme. Les manuscrits et les demandes d'informations ou de catalogues devront être adressés au directeur administratif, Monographies canadiennes de philosophie, Département de philosophie, Université de Toronto, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1A1.
