An additional summary in French, German, Russian or Italian will be accepted. Papers should be sent to the Executive Editor, Dr. E. C. R. GENERAL. Submission of a paper or note will be taken to imply that it is unpublished and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Papers published in Genetical Research may not be reprinted or published in translation without permission from the Editorial Board. Papers should be as concise as clarity permits, and illustrations kept as few as possible. Attention to the following instructions will assist rapid publication.

TYPESCRIPTS. A top copy and one carbon copy should be submitted. They should be typed with double-spacing, on one side of the paper, leaving margins of about 1½ inches at the left-hand side and head of each sheet. Quarto is preferred to foolscap paper. Heavily corrected typescripts may have to be returned to the author for retyping. Papers should state the name and address of the author (or his proxy) to whom proofs are to be sent. The address of the laboratory at which the work was carried out will be printed with the authors' names at the head of the paper, and changes of address and sources of financial support may be added in footnotes.

A short title should be supplied for running headlines; this must not exceed 50 characters, counting each letter and space as one character.

The Evolution of Genetic Systems

Second Edition

C. D. DARLINGTON, D.Sc., F.R.S.

Genetics is here presented as the study of systems of heredity and variation, systems which rest on a basis of chromosomes and are related to one another by processes of natural selection. The combination of the material basis with the evolutionary framework, in the author's opinion, gives a meaning to biology as a whole; and not only for the biologist but also for those with a general interest in science.

"The new edition will offer the same fascination and profit that its predecessor did nearly a generation ago." Heredity
