2017 Cycles of Death and Rebirth in Mesoamerican Cultural Astronomy and the Calendar.

Ancient Mesoamerica 28:465–473. doi: 10.1017/S0956536117000153

The figure caption for Figure 1 misattributed one of the images to the wrong structure. The corrected figure caption is as follows:

As well, on p. 467, right column, lines 12–15, the same misattribution was present. The corrected sentence is as follows:

Somewhat analogous to the Postclassic almanac on pages 12b–18b in the Madrid Codex, a 260-day sequence was recorded inside Uaxactun's Structure B-XIII as part of a painted mural (Morley 1946; Smith 1950; Figure 1).

The publisher regrets these errors.
