Articles not previously have been published or be submitted simultaneously for review elsewhere. Contributors are responsible for obtaining and acknowledging copyright permissions where necessary. Authors of articles published in the journal assign copyright to Cambridge University Press.

Manuscript preparation

Articles should usually be around 5,000 words long, but shorter research notes or more substantial pieces will be considered. Authors should provide a word count at the end of the article. All hard copy must be typed double spaced on A4 or equivalent, with generous margins and numbered pages. The author's name should be given on a separate sheet to facilitate anonymous refereeing.

An abstract of about 100 words summarizing the contents of the article should be typed immediately below the title and above the main text. A note giving details of any acknowledgements should also be included. Author's name(s), postal address(es) and affiliation(s) should be submitted on a separate cover sheet, together with a 75-word biographical note outlining principal publications and relevant achievements/experience.

Writing should be clear and jargon free; subheadings are helpful in long articles. All forms of racial and gender stereotyping must be avoided. The journal has an international readership, so all abbreviations and acronyms should be given in full at their first mention, and school years/pupil ages clearly defined.

Quotations and references

Within the text give author, date and page in brackets, e.g. '(Paynter, 1992: 33)', and list all references alphabetically by surname on a separate sheet at the end. Please note: 'Eds' without point; '&' for joint authors or publishers. For books: surname, initials, publication date (in brackets), title (in italics), place of publication, publisher. For articles: surname, initials, publication date (in brackets), full title (not in italics), journal title (in italics), volume number, issue number, page number(s). For articles in books: author's name, publication date (in brackets), title (in quotes) 'in' editor's name, book title (in italics), place of publication, publisher.

Illustrations and musical examples

All non-text material should be of the highest quality possible for reproduction. Photographs and diagrams should be numbered consecutively as figures and listed on a separate sheet. These may be line drawings or photographs. Electronic files of figures should ideally be saved as TIFF or EPS files and scanned images done at a minimum of 320 dpi. Musical examples and video are also welcomed for inclusion and will appear as supplementary material alongside the electronic version of the article on Cambridge Journals Online. These should be submitted in a standard file format and should not normally exceed 10MB. AAC files are preferred for audio examples, and MP4 files for video examples. All files should be clearly labelled.

The review process

Submitted articles will be sent out to two reviewers and a decision (accept/revise/reject) reached by the editors, usually within three months. Articles accepted must then be submitted by email, conforming to the journal's house style. The preferred word processing packages are Word or WordPerfect in either PC or Macintosh format and the preferred graphics package is Freehand. Authors will be sent proof copies, at which stage typographical or factual errors only may be changed. Contributors of articles will receive a pdf of their article without charge. Extra offprints may be purchased at first proof stage.

More detailed instructions for authors are available on request from the editors, or on the BJME website: journals.cambridge.org/bme
