A Lexicon of Greek Personal Names

General Editors: P. M. FRASER and E. MATTHEWS

'a learned work of reference ... likely to be of great value to ancient historians and epigraphists' Times Literary Supplement

Volume I: The Aegean Islands, Cyprus, Cyrenaica

Volume II: Attica

Edited by M. J. OSBORNE and S. G. BYRNE

The Lexicon is intended to provide those engaged in the study of the Greek world with a list, accompanied by full, itemized evidence, of personal names known from literature, inscriptions, papyri, vases, coins, and other objects, from earliest times to about the 7th century AD.

Volume I: 0-19-864222-9, 528 pp., Clarendon Press £75.00

Volume II: 0-19-814990-5, 532 pp., Clarendon Press £60.00

Winner of the 1994 Langhe Geretto Prize

The Loaded Table

Representations of Food in Roman Literature

EMILY GOWERS

'An intriguing book of many fresh insights.' Classical Review

Emily Gowers provides an unconventional approach to Roman culture which explains why Roman writers so often depicted their society at the dinner table, and why food was such a suggestive image for Roman civilization.

0-19-814695-7, 346 pp., Clarendon Press £40.00

Seduction and Repetition in Ovid's Ars Amatoria 2

ALISON SHARROCK

The Ars Amatoria is a poem about sex and poetry, and poetry as sex. This reading of the poem focuses on the relationship between the poet and reader, the lover and seduced – both here and elsewhere in Latin poetry. All Latin is translated.

0-19-814959-X, 334 pp., Clarendon Press £35.00

'Virgins of God'

The Making of Asceticism in Late Antiquity

SUSANNA ELM

- Path-breaking study of the initiation of ascetic ways of living by Christian women in antiquity

Susanna Elm looks at how these practices were institutionalized, and why later they were either eliminated or transformed by a new Christian Roman elite of men we now think of as the founding fathers.

Unity, Identity, and Explanation in Aristotle's Metaphysics

Edited by T. SCALTSAS, D. CHARLES, and M. L. GILL

- Sets a new agenda for Aristotelian metaphysics

A distinguished group of Aristotelian scholars and contemporary metaphysicians discusses Aristotle's theory of the unity and identity of substances. The questions of ontology, explanation, and methodology with which they deal remain central to metaphysics today.

Simonides: A Historical Study
by John H. Molyneux

"The largest and most important work written on Simonides."

—D.L. Page, Further Greek Epigrams

Prof. Molyneux has provided a thorough examination of all the documentary evidence available with respect to one of history's major choral lyric poets, offering a judicious assessment of the evidence for dating of events and poetry in the various stages of Simonides' career. This meticulous study is certain to be of great value to both literary and historical scholars.
