

THE CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION

THE objects of the Classical Association are to promote the development and maintain the well-being of classical studies, and in particular (a) to impress upon public opinion the claim of such studies to an eminent place in the national scheme of education; (b) to improve the practice of classical teaching; (c) to encourage investigation and call attention to new discoveries; (d) to create opportunities for intercourse among lovers of classical learning.

Membership of the Association is open to men and women alike. The annual subscription is 5s. (life composition, £3 15s.), and there is an entrance fee of 5s. (not charged to Libraries). Members receive a copy of the annual Proceedings of the Association and, on payment of 2s. 6d., of The Year's Work in Classical Studies (both post free). FROM MR. MURRAY'S LIST

THE ÆNEID OF VIRGIL

Translated with an Introductory Essay by FRANK RICHARDS, M.A.

'Mr. Richards declines all archaism. He writes partly for the learned and partly for the general reader. This translation is preceded by some 80 unhackneyed pages of introduction on the history and nature of the poem, the patriotic and religious elements in it, and its plot and characters. Once more we should like to apply by way of sincere recommendation the word "readable" to this "Æneid," and for good reasons: there are no oddities of metre or diction to interfere with the flow of the verse.'—The Times Literary Supplement.
