

Radiocarbon

An International Journal of Cosmogenic Isotope Research

Radiocarbon can, from time to time, waive the page charges for authors in need. This is meant to assist authors in publishing their works who could otherwise not afford to do so.

Page charges are used to cover the expense of producing articles and therefore, waiving this fee is used at Radiocarbon's discretion.

Please upload this waiver form in ScholarOne if you choose to apply. Please note that this application will in no way influence the acceptance or rejection of an article.
