Forms Liberate

Reclaiming the Jurisprudence
of Lon L Fuller
Kristen Rundle

In this book Kristen Rundle offers a close textual analysis of Fuller's published writings and working papers to explain how his claims about the internal morality of law belong to a wider exploration of the ways in which the distinctive form of law introduces meaningful limits to lawgiving power through its connection to human agency. By reading Fuller on his own terms, Forms Liberate demonstrates why his challenge to a purely instrumental conception of law remains salient for twenty-first century legal scholarship.

Kristen Rundle is a Lecturer in Law at the London School of Economics.

Children and Cross-Examination

Time to Change the Rules?
Edited by John R Spencer and Michael E Lamb

In 1989, the Pigot Committee proposed a scheme in which the whole of a young child's evidence, cross-examination and all, would be obtained out of court and in advance of trial. The scheme has been implemented in full in Western Australia, but not in the UK. The essays in this book examine this, and similar schemes, and argue for further reforms in the UK.

John R Spencer QC is Professor of Law in the University of Cambridge.

Michael E Lamb is Professor and Head of the Department of Social and Development Psychology at Cambridge University.

An Introduction to Land Law

3RD EDN

Simon Gardner with Emily MacKenzie

"Well written and clear. A great introduction."
Mika Oldham, Jesus College, Cambridge

This new edition covers the main points of land law found in the syllabuses of law schools in England and Wales. While it is not intended as a comprehensive textbook on the topic, it offers sufficient detail for anyone reading it to gain an overview of the subject, and for those seeking more the footnotes offer plenty of pointers.

Simon Gardner is Hanbury Fellow in Law at Lincoln College, Oxford, and Professor of Law at Oxford University.

Emily MacKenzie is training to be a barrister and is a part-time lecturer at Lincoln College, Oxford.

The Politics of Coalition

How the Conservative - Liberal
Democrat Government Works
Robert Hazell and Ben Yong

The Politics of Coalition is the tale of two parties embarking on the first coalition government at Westminster for over 60 years. What challenges did they face in the first couple of years, and how did they deal with them? The book is based on interviews with over 140 ministers, MPs, Lords, civil servants, party officials and interest groups.

Robert Hazell is Director of the Constitution Unit in University College London's School of Public Policy.

Ben Yong is a research associate at the Constitution Unit.

Yearbook of International Humanitarian Law

Marketed and distributed for T.M.C Asser Press

Managing Editor

Louise Arimatsu, University College London, UK

General Editor

Michael N. Schmitt, Durham University, UK

The Yearbook of International Humanitarian Law provides a truly international forum for high-quality, peer-reviewed articles, commentaries on current developments, reports on state practice, and documentation that have international humanitarian law as their focal point. All aspects of international law applicable during international and non-international armed conflicts are covered, in addition to interesting and significant developments in related fields, such as international peace and security, international criminal law, human rights law, disarmament law and refugee law, inter alia. Distinguished by its topicality and contemporary relevance, the Yearbook bridges the gap between theory and practice and serves as a useful reference tool for scholars, practitioners, military personnel, civil servants, diplomats, human rights workers and students.

International Review of the Red Cross

Published for the International Committee of the Red Cross

Editor

Vincent Bernard, The International Committee of the Red Cross, Switzerland

The International Review of the Red Cross promotes reflection on humanitarian law, policy and action in armed conflict and other situations of collective armed violence. A specialized journal in humanitarian law, it endeavours to promote knowledge, critical analysis and development of the law and to contribute to the prevention of violations of rules protecting fundamental rights and values. The Review offers a forum for discussion about contemporary humanitarian action as well as analysis of the causes and characteristics of conflicts so as to give a clearer insight into the humanitarian problems they generate. Finally, the Review informs its readership on questions pertaining to the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement and in particular on the activities and policies of the Red Cross.

Health Economics, Policy and Law

Published in association with LSE Health

Editor-in-Chief

Adam Oliver, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

International trends highlight the confluence of economics, politics and legal considerations in the health policy process. Health Economics, Policy and Law (HEPL) provides a forum for inter-disciplinary health policy studies, and will be of use to academics, policy makers, health care managers and professionals. HEPL is international in scope, publishing both theoretical and applied work, with articles on all aspects of health policy. HEPL is particularly interested in publishing innovative ideas that promise to contribute to improving health and healthcare policy. Considerable emphasis is placed on rigorous conceptual development and analysis, and on the presentation of empirical evidence that is relevant to the policy process. Review articles and debate sections bring readers in touch with current research developments and issues.
