ANNUAL REVIEW OF APPLIED LINGUISTICS

Robert B. Kaplan, Editor

Now in its seventh year, Annual Review of Applied Linguistics continues to survey research in the field of applied linguistics and to comment on trends and new directions in that field. Each issue is thematic covering topics from language policy to multilingualism to linguistic minorities and their verbal repertoires by means of critical summaries, overviews, and annotations. Every fifth issue surveys the field of applied linguistics as a whole, offering timely essays on pedagogy, computer-assisted instruction, second-language acquisition, and lexicography, to name just a few of the exciting areas covered. Providing 500 new citations each year, Annual Review of Applied Linguistics is an invaluable reference source for all applied linguists, language teachers, and students of linguistics.
